HEAVY DAMAGES FOR A JOKE.

Two Young Men Fined $14,000 For Hazing.

Fourteen thousand dollars damages was the verdict of a jury recently in a suit brought by Charles Stoner against five young men of prominent families in Bradford, Ill., for injuries caused in a hazing prank of which he was the victim. The defendants are William Real, Earl Lippin, Arley Harwood, Earl Howe, and Francis Long.

Stoner, the son of a farmer, was attending school in Bradford last spring when the incident occurred. He was injured from a home one evening and dragged to a cemetery at the edge of the city, where he was tied to a tombstone.

He was terribly frightened at the thought of approaching among the tombstones and made a desperate effort to free himself. As he lunged forward he pulled the tombstone, to which he was tied over upon him. His knee bone was broken and he suffered internal injuries. His captors freed him and he was taken to a hospital, where he remained a nervous wreck for many weeks.

One of his hazers, Arthur Pilgrim, is in California. Another, John Sharkey, is thought to be in South Dakota. These two, together with the five against which the civil action was brought, have been indicted for conspiracy.—Chicago Tribune.

LIPTON'S CHARITY.

He Took First One Hint Then Another.

Sir Thomas Lipton has committed many generous acts during his life about which he can never be induced to talk.

He is fond, however, of telling of an incident which happened in his early days, concerning an astute mother who forced him to raise her son's wages because Sir Thomas had presented him with a brand-new suit of clothes.

Sir Thomas started business with one assistant, a boy of fourteen, who was willing and honest. One day the boy was overheard complaining that his clothes were so shabby he was unable to go to chapel.

Mr. Lipton, as he then was, was making every sacrifice to enlarge his little shop, but he took a small amount from his carefully hoarded savings and bought the boy a suit of blue cloth.

The next day the boy didn't come to work and Mr. Lipton, meeting his mother in the street, asked her the reason.

"Why, Mr. Lipton," she said, curtly, "because he's so respectable, thanks to you, sir, that I thought I would send him round the town today to see if he couldn't get a better job."

Sir Thomas mockingly took the hint and offered an increased salary, which was accepted on behalf of him by his mother.—Detroit News-Tribune.

A Quaint Curiosity.

The annual historic "bad hose" games have just been held on the village green at Carnwath. According to the conditions in the charters granting the lands of Lee and Carnwath to the Lockhart family, this race must be run annually at a stated period. The winner becomes the heir in succession to the estates should the Lockhart family die out without issue within the ensuing year, his name being proclaimed at the Cross of Edinburgh.—London Globe.

Britannians Eat More Sugar.

The annual per capita consumption of sugar in the United Kingdom has gradually increased from 29 1/2 pounds in 1857 to nearly 100 pounds at the present time. But the British refining industry has steadily advanced relatively. Fifty years ago, for example, all of the sugar used in the kingdom was refined there, while now the proportion is only 45 per cent.

Many Electro-Technical Patents.

About 5,000 electro-technical patents were taken out in various countries in 1907. The United States is credited with 2,650, United Kingdom and colonies with 750, Germany 700, France 400, Austria 200, Italy 180, Hungary 130, and Switzerland with 120.
